

Dr. Willis is Associate Professor and Chair of Neurology at the University of Mississippi Medical Center. She completed a clinical neuroimmunology fellowship and previously served as Medical Director at the Mellen Center for Multiple Sclerosis at Cleveland Clinic. Her specific areas of interest include medical education, spasticity management, and comprehensive care of the MS patient.